-Henry Ford

TODAY'S TIP

Taken from the Ten Steps to a Graffiti-Free City Guidebook 1: "Just How Bad Is It Anyway? How To Conduct A City-Wide Graffiti Survey."

Conducting a Citywide Graffiti Survey is extremely important. The concept is simple. Count all of the tags in your city during the same week every year. Why is it important to do that each year? How else will you know if there is more graffiti in your city this year compared to last year? A survey is the only way. Your first survey will establish a baseline, which will allow you to compare your results (and hopefully progress) in the subsequent years. Click here to read more.
